A few words from Fr Joe.....

There is nothing like a few hot sunny days to lift the spirits of just about everyone. As many moved towards the beaches, parks and simple walks in the fresh air a very positive, upbeat vibe prevailed. Personally, I love getting down to the sea, not to swim, but at least to walk by the beach, listen to the gulls and watch the happy people. Seeing a mother and her teenage son walking towards me, deep in conversation, each holding a huge '99' from Teddy's, one licking, the other talking, in perfect synchronisation, just lifted my heart. Since Pope Francis launched his pastoral letter, Laudato Si, on our relationship with creation we have all become ever more aware of climate change, and how weather patterns shifting are a sign of something that also makes us cautious. This week the temperatures in Ireland were the hottest ever recorded our country, brilliant for a few days of shorts and tee shirts, but what is this telling us? Hotter summers, wetter winters and ever stronger storms seem to be our future. God has given us a beautiful natural environment, planet earth, and we are all responsible for how we treat it. Our generation of faithful Catholics are challenged to be spiritually aware of how important creation is and to look after mother earth as an expression of our relationship with God. Just as with every other aspect of living our faith it is the little things that we do which matter so much. Let's hope for a bit more sunshine in the weeks ahead.

It is also 'Exam weather' and we all share in supporting our students beginning public exams in the days ahead and wish each and every one of them well.

'A time of synodality is a good time to study theology. The Loyola Institute <https://www.tcd.ie/loyola-institute/> offers stimulating postgraduate courses, and lectures are in the evening. Scholarships available, with one specifically for an Irish woman who wishes to study theology and make a difference.'

Our sympathies to the families, relatives, and friends of Margaret O'Carroll, Margaret Mc Cambridge, Jim Henry and Sr. Anne Roche whose funerals took place here this week.

Prayer to the Most Holy Trinity

O Most Holy Trinity,
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,
we worship You, we love You, we glorify You.
Fill our hearts with Your love,
guide our steps with Your wisdom,
and keep us united in Your truth.
May our lives reflect the unity and peace that flows from Your divine presence. Amen.

The Vhi Women's Mini Marathon will take place on SUNDAY 31st May 2026. The event will pass by close to Mount Merrion Church between 12:30 / 16:30 hrs. approximately. During this time, there may be some traffic diversions in the area. We apologize for any inconvenience.

The National Synodal Pathway has reached an important moment in its journey. Currently, the working groups are meeting periodically to explore more deeply the seven priorities identified by the Catholic Church in discerning what God is asking of the Church in Ireland today. The God of Love and Peace

This Sunday, after all the events and celebrations of Passiontide and Easter, we come to ponder the great mystery of the Most Holy Trinity, which binds them all together. In the First Reading, Moses goes up Mount Sinai to plead for his sinful people. He enters the cloud of the Lord's presence and discovers a God of tenderness, compassion and forgiveness.

The Canticle that follows comes from the Book of Daniel, and is a song of praise to bless and glorify God in the heavens and in creation.

St Paul closes his letter to the Corinthians (Second Reading) with a blessing of the three Persons, one God.

The Gospel is part of Jesus's conversation with Nicodemus. It clearly states that the Father gave his Son Jesus, with infinite love, to bring eternal life.

May we strive to live this week in the fellowship of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, spreading God's love and peace.
